WELCOME TO THE BARLASTON ESTATE

Set in the heart of the Staffordshire countryside, Barlaston Hall and St John's at Barlaston Hall sit on 4.5 acres at the edge of the stunning Wedgwood Estate.

Our family home, Barlaston Hall, is an 18th-century Grade I listed manor house built in 1756 by notable architect Sir Robert Taylor as a place for entertaining guests, and we're proud to say it's still serving that purpose today.

Also sitting in the estate grounds is St John's at Barlaston Hall, the original village church which was deconsecrated in the 1980's and subsequently fell into disrepair. The church has been brought back to its former glory and offers a unique opportunity to hold non-religious ceremonies in an atmospheric old church building.

We feel incredibly privileged to have Barlaston as our family home, and we very much look forward to welcoming you and your guests and helping you create a fantastic event.

Your event will be fully catered, we have a wonderful selection of food and drink menus to suit every occasion.

CORPORATE TEAM-BUILDING EVENTS AND AWAYDAYS

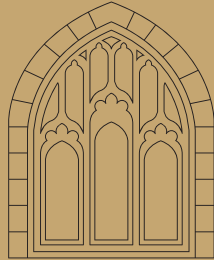

Strengthening client relationships and allowing your team to come together has never been more critical as hybrid working becomes the norm.

The Barlaston estate provides an inspiring venue for your client events, leadership awaydays or team-building activities; the Hall, the grounds, and the old church building are all available for your exclusive use.

Our in-house team will handle the catering, including a welcome breakfast to kick off the day, a buffet lunch, BBQ or a sit-down dinner.

Audio-visual technology is available for your event and team-building activities and whether it's a treasure hunt on the Barlaston grounds, team games on the lawn, circus skills or wine-tasting, we've got you covered.

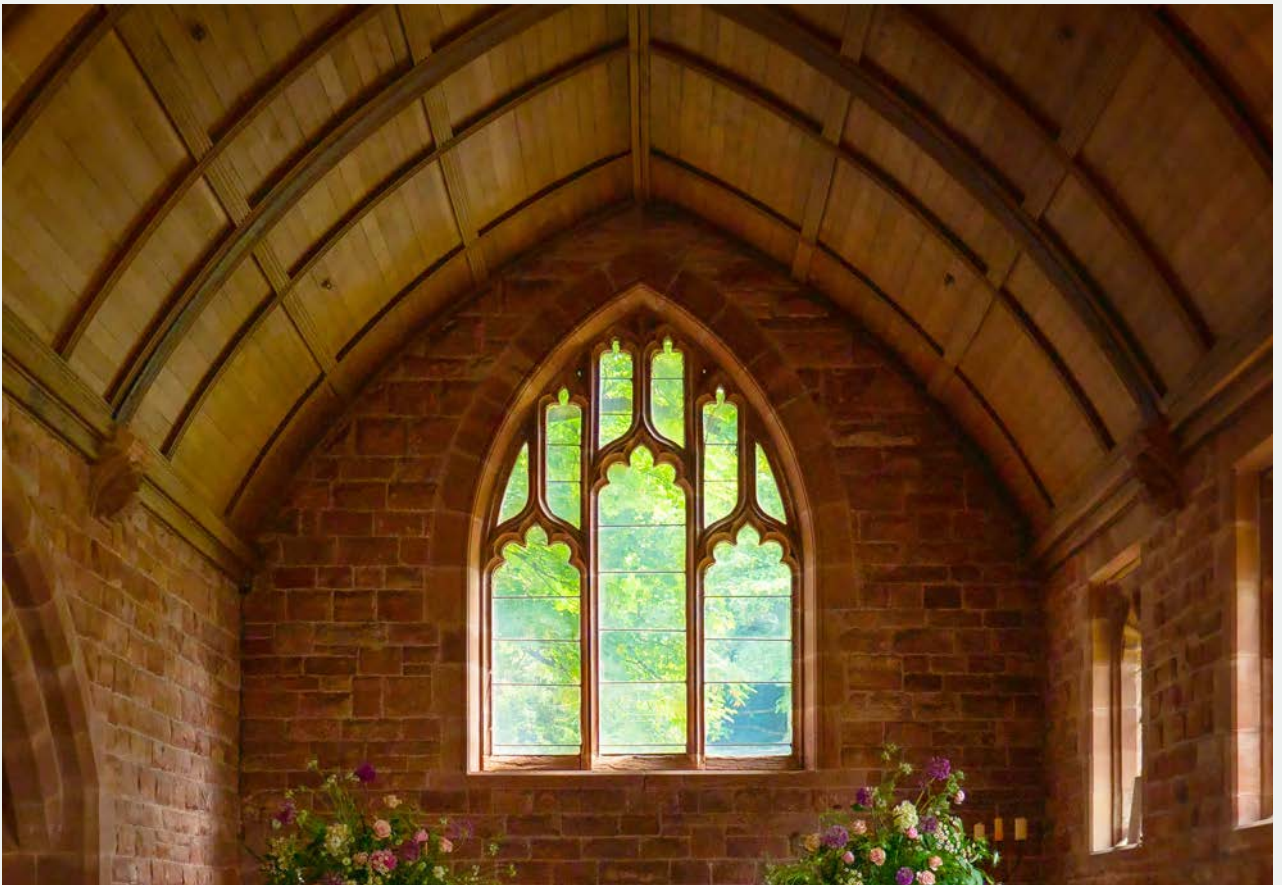

ST JOHN'S
AT BARLASTON HALL

The old recently renovated church building is a truly flexible space; the vaulted ceiling, original church windows and discrete alcoves offer a unique space to suit all event types, formal gala dinners, special celebrations, team building events and even your AGM.

Maximum capacity is 100 seated or up to 300 for an informal event. Along with a variety of table configurations the church building can accommodate a bar, DJ, or band and dance floor.

THE ESTATE GROUNDS

The Estate grounds offer endless possibilities to experience the great outdoors, whether it's a quintessentially English garden party, a summer BBQ or a fully catered marquee event. The 4.5 acre estate grounds provide a sense of freedom and adventure, from team games on the lawns to treasure hunts through the woods and secret pathways.

The Barlaston Grounds are available for guests' exclusive use and give the additional opportunity to take your event outdoors - weather permitting!

The grounds can also accommodate a marquee for up to 300 people.

A UNIQUE SETTING FOR YOUR SPECIAL OCCASION.

St John's at Barlaston Hall is our deconsecrated church and sits within the grounds of the Barlaston Estate, a short walk away from the Hall and provides a rare opportunity to hold your non-religious ceremony in a beautiful historic 12th-century church building.
